MORE ALLIED GAINS IN SICILY

Ragusa, Augusta, Palazzolo And Florida Captured: Heavy R.A.F. Raid On Turin

'An official announcement from the Allied Headquarters, North Africa, on Tuesday, announces the capture of Ragusa, Augusta, Palazzolo and Florida, seven miles west of Syracuse.

HEAVY RAID ON TURIN

An Air Ministry 'communique' states that a strong force of aircraft of the Bomber Command attacked Turin on Monday night. An Italian 'communique' on Tuesday admits "considerable damage" in the Turin raid.

ALLIES MAINTAIN PROGRESS

LONDON, July 13.

Allied Headquarters North Africa:

It is officially announced that Ragusa and Augusta have been captured.

The British and Canadians captured Florida seven miles west of Syracuse.

Allied losses in capturing 'Augusta are officially described as slight. The port and harbour installations are said to be undamaged.

The British and Canadians who have now linked up are pushing on from the coastal fringe along a 40-mile front from Pozzallo to Syracuse. The Americans are also advancing and increasing their grip on territory inland on a front stretching from Gela to Licata.

12-MILE-ADVANCE

The occupation of Palazzolo and the thrust to the important centre of Ragusa announced in the Allied communique represent an advance of some 12 miles over difficult hilly country. The progress made in this area is of outstanding significance.

At least 500 square miles of territory are now in Allied hands. Heavy tanks have been landed and joined in advance. Far ahead of them clouds of Allied planes are causing chaos on roads along which Axis reinforcements are being rushed. Allied planes under Air Chief Marshal Tedder have won complete mastery of the sky over Sicily.

RAID ON TURIN.

Announcing the raid on Turin and Air Ministry communique says: "Last night a strong force of aircraft of the Bomber Command attacked objectives in Turin. The attack was heavy and concentrated.

The machines covered 700 miles on the outward journey and averaged about 1,300 on return.

The losses are understood to be about normal.—

Today's communique says: "For the past 24 hours great activity has continued off and on all beaches as reinforcements, vehicles and supplies have been landed by the Navy and sent forward. The surf has made this work difficult in some of the more exposed positions.

In the eastern sector, our troops encountered some resistance as they advanced along the coast. Inland very good progress has been made. Palazzolo has been occupied. In the western sector the advance continues and an enemy counter-attack with tanks has successfully been beaten off and a large number of prisoners were taken and some tanks destroyed."

SICILIAN PORTS POUNDED

Today's air communique announces: "Fighter bombers throughout yesterday continued their heavy attacks on enemy troop columns and lines of communications and destroyed or damaged large numbers of enemy motor transport. During the night of July 11-12 our bombers attacked Sicilian ports and Montecervino airfields in Italy Heavy concentrated attacks were made by heavy bombers against focal points at Messina, Reggio and Sangiovanni. Medium light and fighter bombers attacked airfields and communications in Sicily. Throughout the day our fighters carried out sweeps over our shipping, beaches and our advancing troops.

ENEMY COLUMNS RUSHED TO LICATA

The Algiers Radio said: "The Allied column which occupied Pachino is pushing on. Air reconnaissance reports that enemy columns are racing towards Licata captured by the Americans yesterday."

4000 AXIS PRISONERS TAKEN

LONDON, July 13: The Algiers Radio said this morning: "We took 4,000 prisoners yesterday. Enemy defence of the coastal ridge has been virtually annihilated."

INVASION SHIPS WITHDRAWN

From Reuter's Special Correspondent at Allied Headquarters on Monday night:—Many ships used in the invasion having safely accomplished their mission have been withdrawn from the danger zone as there is evidence of slightly increased enemy attacks.

EISENHOWER IN SICILY

An American broadcast from Algiers says that Allied landings are continuing in south eastern Sicily.

General Eisenhower has arrived in Sicily to inspect the operations there and to confer with other Allied General.

Meanwhile it is officially announced that the Canadians captured Ispica and Rossolini.

CAPE PASSERO CAPTURED

Algiers radio yesterday afternoon said that Cape Passero at the South-East corner of Sicily is now firmly in Allied hands.

The junction between British and Canadian troops took place at a distance of 55 miles from Cape Passero.

It is believed that the Allies have penetrated to a depth of 20 miles at some points.

The Germans are rushing forces east towards Agrigento to meet the peril from the Americans who were last reported at Licata 20 miles away.

An American broadcast from Algiers said that Axis reinforcements are jamming roads as they moved south in Sicily.

It is officially learned that the American forces in Sicily are composed of the new seventh army under General Patou.

A British destroyer brought General Eisenhower and his party to Sicily where after an uneventful trip, they landed at dawn to-day.

Off Pachino Peninsula, General Eisenhower climbed down the side of the destroyer into an ampnibious jeep which carried him to the beach.

GENERAL EISENHOWER

ITALIAN GENERAL KILLED

LONDON, July 13.

The Italian News Agency announced this morning that Lt.-General Enrico Francisci, Commander of the Thirteenth zone of Blackshirt Militia and Liaison Officer of the Italian armies in Sicily was killed in action on Monday.

He had fought with the Italians in the Spanish civil war and was also in Russia.

He had been in Sicily since last month.—I

REDS RETAKE LOST POSITION

Soviet "KV" Tanks Beat Nazi "Tigers"

MOSCOW, July 13.

From Reuter's special correspondent.

Soviet troops have recaptured part of the ground lost in the earlier days in the offensive in the Byelgorod area.

The latest Red Star front dispatch says: "One Guards Division, which was originally forced back, has now as a result of active defence entirely recaptured its original positions."

No progress has been made anywhere by the Germans in Byelgorod or the Orel-Kursk fronts yesterday though it was not for want of trying.

A Red Star dispatch says "Our K.V. tanks are stronger than the German Tigers. Wherever they clashed the K.V. always gained victory"

The Izvestia estimates that the Tigers on the Byelgorod front constitute 30 per cent of the total German tank forces there.

Dozens of bombers dive-bombed Soviet positions yesterday, says the Red Star but "already the Germans are attacking with smaller forces" than on the first six days.

Half a million men are engaged to-day across the hills and gorges of the Byelgorod country and the flat plains to the northern end of the Kursk salient as the German offensive enters its second week of continuous fighting.

SOVIET COMMUNIQUE

The Soviet midnight "communique" says:

Fighting was particularly stubborn in the Byelgorod direction.

During to-day's fighting our troops in the Orel-Kursk and Byelgorod directions destroyed or disabled 122 German tanks. Eighteen German planes were shot down in air combat and by anti-aircraft fire.

A supplement to the Soviet "communique" says: "In the Orel-Kursk direction our units repelled enemy attacks.

It adds that in one sector, about 1,000 Germans were killed.

In the Byelgorod direction fierce fighting continues German tanks and infantry supported by artillery and aircraft repeatedly attacked the Russian positions but all the attacks failed.

VOLKHOV FRONT

On the Volkhov front Soviet gunners shelled positions and objectives immediately behind the German lines, smashing 12 blockhouses. Eight boats laden with German infantry were sunk. Guerillas derailed a German army train wrecking the engine and six passenger coaches.

U.S. PLANES FOR RUSSIA

LOS ANGELES, July 13.

Gen. Henry H. Arnold, Chief of the United States Army Air force, told pressmen that Russia was receiving large numbers of American planes each month and China similarly was to be further supplied.

"We will build an Air Force in China as rapidly as possible but you have to do it in a balanced way".

STANLEY ON BR. COLONIAL POLICY

WESTMINSTER, July 13.

The British Government's desire that Ceylon should have the promised internal self-government as soon as possible after the war was reiterated during a debate on British Colonial policy in the Commons to-day.

The Colonial Secretary Col. Oliver Stanley after referring to the new constitution for Jamaica said: "There is Ceylon to which a promise of full internal self-government under the Crown in all matters of internal civil administration has been given.

The Board of Ministers has been invited to formulate their own scheme for carrying out that pledge. That promise was given in all sincerity.

It was explained that during the war there was no opportunity for detailed discussion on a matter of this complexity and magnitude. It is our desire as soon as possible after the war that this promise will be implemented but the length of time will depend on whether the Ministers can come to conference with a proper constitutional scheme.

Col. Stanley then announced that the British Government had decided to set up a Commission of inquiry to deal with educational problems in the colonies under the chairmanship of the noted scholar Sir Cyril Asquith.

Another Commission would deal with problems of higher education in West African Colonies under the chairmanship of Mr. Walter Elliot, former Minister of Health.

WHAT ABOUT INDIA.

Mr. Maxton asked:—Are the Secretary for India and the Secretary for the Dominions following these same lines?

Col. Stanley replied: "With regard to India I would have thought that the essence of the Cripps declaration was to lay down the area and the work of the Indians themselves to suggest the remedy. "As to the Dominions, the Secretary is capable of speaking for himself".

Mr. Maxton went on to elaborate the point but the Speaker intervened and ruled further discussion of that out of order.

Recalling that Mr. Churchill said that the Government was convined that the administration of British Colonies must continue to be the sole responsibility of Great Britain and that the policy of the Government was to work in close co-operation with neighbouring and friendly nations, Col. Stanley said: "We realise under the present circustances that Such co-operation is not only desirable but essential.

QUESTION OF "NATIVES"

Replying to a question as to how the native population would be associated with the Commissions Col. Stanley said that in the matter of development in each territory no doubt the association would be different as they moved towards greater and greater degrees of self-Government and more and more people were there. One could not generalize.

The matter was concerned not only with the British Colonies but Colonial territories of all other Powers who would have to be consulted and associated with such Commissions.—Reuter.

STIMSON DINES WITH CHURCHILL

LONDON, July 13.

It is disclosed to-day that the United States Secretary for War Mr. Henry L. Stimson dined with Mr Churchill at No. 10 Downing Street last night. The party also included the United States Ambassador, Mr. Winant, Mrs. Winant and the Foreign Secretary Mr. Eden.

NEW YORK: Gen. Giraud arrived here on Monday night from Washington on board an army transport plane.

ABDUL GAFFAR KHAN NOT WELL

Haripur Jail Detenu's Letter To N. W. F. P. Premier

LAHORE, July 13.

Khan Mahomed Yunus Khan, a detenu in Haripur jail, is stated to have written to the Premier, Sardar Aurangzeb Khan, demanding better treatment for political prisoners in respect of medical aid, arrangements for reading and writing, supply of newspapers, facilities for out-door games, and special treatment for Khan Abdul Gaffar Khan, who is being treated as an ordinary prisoner and is also reported to be not well, the nature of the ailment having not been properly diagnosed yet by the jail doctors. —U.P.

TREATMENT OF POLITICALS

Central Assembly To Take Up Issue On July 27

NEW DELHI, July 13

The debate on the treatment of political prisoners will take place on July 27, the second day of the Assembly session, the "United Press" learns.

Although the ballot for resolutions has resulted in the first place for Mr Renuka Roy's resolution regarding modification of the Hindu Law, the discussions on Mr. Krishnamachari's resolution on the subject of treatment of political prisoners had not concluded on March 25 last and would now be taken up first on July 27.

So far only Mr. Krishnamachari and the Home Member have spoken and the movers of amendments like Messrs. N M. Joshi, K C Neogy and Nilkantha Das have to make speeches whereafter general debate would ensue.—United Press.

63 DETENUS RELEASED

POONA, July 13.—A batch of 63 detenus, mostly from Satara District, was released unconditionally from the Yerawada Jail

BELGAUM: A reward of Rs. 1,000 each has been announced for the arrest of Mr. Anant Kulkarni and Mr Waman Bidri, who are said to be absconding for the last few months. Two persons who were 'wanted' by the police in connection with the disturbances were arrested.

SANGLI: Eight young men were taken into custody after a search of their residences. It is reported that some weapons and prejudicial leaflets were recovered in the course of the search.

SURAT: Mr. Parbhu Chhania of Jalalpore who was arrested for, it is alleged, persuading a police patil of Chiahagam in Jalalpore Taluka to resign, has been acquitted.—U. P.

Missionaries Urge Jail Delivery

Amnesty For Those 'Who Are Prepared To Follow Constitutional Methods'

BOMBAY, July 13.

An earnest appeal to all parties in India to make an entirely fresh approach to the political problem, with a view to coming to a settlement, is made in a statement issued over the signature of a number of British Missionaries resident in India.

The signatories to this appeal urge on the Government of India to consider the granting of a general amnesty to all political prisoners who are not convicted of crimes of violence and who are prepared to follow constitutional methods.

The following is the full text of the statement:—

We, a group of British Missionaries belonging to various branches of the Christian Church, have felt moved to express our minds on the political situation. We are not party politicians, and we realise that in many political questions, it is possible for Christians honestly to hold opposing views. On this particular question, we know that there are differences of opinion, and we wish to make it clear that in what we now say, we have no authority to speak on behalf of the whole body of British Missionaries, but we have reason to believe that the opinions which we hold are widely shared.

"We cannot but be disturbed by the fact that while it has been authoritatively declared that India has the right to frame her own constitution for a Free India, the methods of friendly consultation and discussion with a view to the preparation of plans for the attainment of this end have broken down, and bitterness and distrust have infected the minds of great numbers of people. It is not for us to apportion blame for all that has happened in recent months, but as Christian men and women we feel it to be our duty to give whatever help we can, towards the restoration of goodwill and the attainment of a settlement acceptable to all classes in India.

"We believe that such a settlement can be reached only through the co-operation of the best minds in India. We therefore earnestly urge that all parties should admit the necessity of making an entirely fresh approach to the whole problem, and should declare their willingness to enter into unrestricted conference with each other with a view to discovering whether their differences are irreconcilable This seems to us to be not only the right method of procedure, but the only method that is likely to be fruitful.

BRITISH PLEDGES

"We are aware that it has been widely alleged that Britain has no intention of agreeing to any scheme of self-Government for India. In particular it has been said (1) that the promises which Britain has made to India are vague and ambiguous, and (2) that experience has proved that past promises have been untrustworthy. We would suggest that so far as the first charge is concerned, the leaders of responsible parties may apply to Government for the elucidation of any points which do not seem to be clear. In regard to the second charge, we would suggest that a fresh and dispassionate study of the undertakings given by the British Government with reference to self-Government for India from 1908 onwards, and the manner in which they have or have not been implemented, would be of value at the present time. For the future, it is clear that both British public opinion and world opinion would make it impossible for any British Government to break promises which have been clearly made to India.

CALL CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY

"The policy of postponing even the planning of a new constitution until after the war has caused great dissatisfaction in India. We are strongly of opinion that the representative body proposed in the Cripps Scheme for the planning of a new constitution should be called together now, and that Government should give it every help and encouragement in its work. We would suggest that in convening this body, Government should make it clear beyond all possibility of misunderstanding that every question regarding the future constitution is open and that no question may be presumed to have been settled beforehand, so that no individual or party may have any excuse for refusing to participate in its deliberations.

We offer these suggestions in the hope that they may secure the attention of the general public, of the leaders of the political parties, and of Government. We fully recognise that the successful prosecution of the war must be the prime concern of Government, and we believe that the acceptance of our suggestions would greatly help and not hinder this. WE WOULD ASK GOVERNMENT, IF THESE SUGGESTIONS COMMEND THEMSELVES TO THEM, TO CONSIDER THE GRANTING OF AN AMNESTY TO ALL POLITICAL PRISONERS NOT CONVICTED OF CRIMES OF VIOLENCE WHO ARE PREPARED TO FOLLOW CONSTITUTIONAL METHODS AND TO WORK ON CONSTRUCTIVE LINES. At the same time we would suggest to the leaders of the various parties that they should prepare the way for formal action by arranging meetings for friendly and informal conference now.

"It is clear that no happy solution of the Indian political problem is possible while suspicion and distrust remain. On the other hand, we believe that if goodwill and mutual trust can be restored, the way lies open to the attainment of a just and lasting settlement."

The following are the signatories to the appeal:

BURMA TARGETS POUNDED

NEW DELHI, July 13.

B-24 heavy bombers of the Tenth U.S. Air Force on July 12 dropped more than twelve tons of bombs on enemy railroad installations at Ywataung, Burma, says a 'communique' issued by Rear Echelon Headquarters United States Army Forces, China-Burma-India.

On the same day our 'P-40' fighters armed with medium and fragmentation bombs attacked the Japanese base at Nanyaseik in Northern Burma. As a result of this and previous attacks, pilots reported all important supply and administrative installations there are now destroyed.

FROM ASSAM BASES

On July 11 fighters from Assam bases made repeated bombing and strafing attacks against Japanese supply centres and troop-bases all through the day. Nanyaseik and Sumprabum were heavily bombed. Among many buildings destroyed at the latter town was the largest building in the area, believed to have been the enemy headquarters. The villages of Sagun and Mingan were bombed and strafed. Fires were left burning. The town of Mogaung was heavily bombed. Much damage was reported. The village of Seton was strafed. The town of Taro was bombed and the village of Taganku strafed. Fires were started at both places. Large fires also were observed at Ningbyen as a result of a concentrated bombing attack. A formation armed with thousand-pound bombs attacked the Lollaw railroad bridge near Mogaung. A direct hit destroyed the centre span. Near hits damaged the north approach span. Tracks and the south approach were also seriously damaged.

From these operations all aircraft and crews returned safely.—A. P.

Bengal Govt. Invokes Whitehall

Sequel To Speaker's Ruling Out Demands Of Previous Cabinet

CALCUTTA, July 13.

According to Parliamentary circles, the Government of Bengal are now in communication with the Secretary of State for India, through H.E. the Viceroy, regarding the situation arising out of the ruling of the Speaker of the Bengal Legislative Assembly on July 8, declaring Government's motions for demands for grants relating to portions of the budget for the current year which had remained undisposed of, out of order.

What steps Government will now take as regards the presentation of the budget estimates, in full or in part, depends on the advice of the Secretary of State for India, it is further learnt.—A.P.

MAHATMA WITHDRAWS IT?

MADRAS, July 13.

The "Hindu" has published the following in its issue of yesterday:—

"According to reliable reports Mahatma Gandhi in his letter to His Excellency the Viceroy has unconditionally withdrawn the A. I C. C. resolution of August 8, 1942. Gandhiji, it is believed, has requested His Excellency to favour him with a reply before August 15 this year.

"In view of the importance of the matter, the Viceroy is believed to have communicated the terms of the letter to the British Cabinet and will await instructions before sending his reply to Gandhiji."—United Press

Despite Osman's Denial

STOP CATTLE SLAUGHTER

S. O. S. To American & Chinese Consuls

Pt. Ramshankar Tripathi, General Secretary, All-India Arya (Hindu) Dharma Sewa Sangha, Delhi has addressed two important communications to the American Consulate-General and the Chinese Commissioner in India respectively drawing their attention to the huge slaughter of cows and milch cattle in this country for military consumption and seeking their assistance to solve this problem.

He says that in the absence of milk millions of semi-starved and under-nourished people will grow physically weak and may, consequently, fall prey to all sorts of diseases and infantile mortality will grow still higher.

Hindus will be the worst sufferers on account of this as most of them depend upon vegetable food as their staple food.

LEAGUERS AT PAREL

Prospective Champions Of The Season

BY FREE LANCE

Football at Parel has risen in tremendous popularity this season—both from the standpoints of players and spectators. As many as 18 teams are participating in the two divisions of the Indian League, called the Bengal Club Cup League. The latter is rather a long name I wish its conductors shorten it to something more easily pronounceable or it is bound to be called the Indian League. The Second division of the Harwood League has a dozen in the list while the third division bears 29 teams in two sections. The standard of football is much higher this year than ever before. Perhaps that is due partly to some of the erstwhile first division players playing in these tournaments. In consequence there has been keen rivalry between the various clubs.

TATAS TO THE FORE

From what has happened so far, it now seems certain that the Tata Sports Club would win the first division of the Indian League and the second division of the Harwood League—a feat which I believe no other team, barring the W.I.A.A. staff, has performed before. The Tatas have collected together a very good side. When they are promoted to the first division of the Harwood League next year, I am sure they will make their presence felt at the Cooperage as their famous predecessors have done the Times of India are in the running for the second position in the Indian Leagues, while the H. V. M. and the G.I.P. Railway who are making a strong bid for a similar position in the Harwood League second division. The St. Xavier's College who have taken the field rather late, are now fighting their way towards the top of both the Leagues. It remains to be seen how far they succeed in dislodging their opponents from the ranks they have gained so far.

BENGAL CLUB'S CHANCES

In the second division of the Indian League Bengal Club has almost assured itself of the Championship. With only the Imperial Chemicals to tackle, they should not experience much difficulty in attaining their object. Then the Sporting Union will become the runners-up. In the third division, Bhimraj 'A' have already secured the top place in one section while St. Francis S C and Bank of India are fighting for the same position in the other section. The former seems to have a better chance than their rivals.

The rains of the last few days have turned the St. Xavier's College Gymkhana ground, where all the above tournaments are held, into a veritable quagmire. Under the appalling conditions now prevailing, it is impossible to play much of scientific football. I hope Bro. Noguera, with the help of the Sun, will try to improve the state of affairs before the knock-out tournaments are started.

DANGH SEVA MANDAL

A short review of the Peint Branch of the Dangh Seva Mandal for 1942-43 is given below.

The first meeting of the Peint Branch of the Dangh Seva Mandal was held at Borvat on the 24th of May 1942. Since then Mandal has been carrying on various activities. Upto the end of May 1943 Rs 9,529-3-2 were collected. Nagli was purchased and distributed in 115 villages among 280 families. The total number of maunds distributed was 949 maunds, 14 payalis, 3 seers. It was given at the nominal rate of 1 payali per maund as an interest. The total number of collection this year is about 915 maunds 9 payalis 3 seers. The balance to be recovered from the villagers is 34 maunds 5 payalis. 57 maunds and payalis were collected as an interest therefore the total collection stands at 972 maunds 12 payalis 3 seers. This is to be redistributed again among the villagers as Khavati.

LONDON: It is announced that Coastal Command Beaufighters scored hits on a heavily armed Axis escort vessel, off the Norwegian coast on Saturday night and left it settling by the stern on fire and with a list to starboard. One pilot reported a big explosion. One Beaufighter is missing.

Canada Draws Post-War Currency Plan

Scheme Envisages Majority Vote Of Clearing Union On All Monetary Questions

OTTAWA, July 12.

A new post-war currency plan designed to facilitate international trade was today submitted to the House of Commons by the Finance Minister Mr. James Lorimer Isley.

The plan calls for the creation of an international exchange fund with initial capital of 8,000 million dollars, approximately 1,777 million sterling, and potential capital of 12,000 million dollars, approximately 2,666 million sterling. There would be new international currency equivalent in value to 137 and one-seventh grains of gold.

The most important difference between the Canadian proposals and those offered by British and American experts is in the matter of control.

The Canadian plan contemplates nearly all important post-war decisions on monetary policy being made by the majority vote of members of a "clearing union." The American plan puts crucial decisions to a four-fifths vote, giving virtual power of veto to such big creditor countries as the United States and Great Britain.—Reuter.

THEY OWED THEIR LIVES TO FISH

A BRITISH PORT, July 13.

Four men—three Englishmen and an Australian named William Best—who fought hunger, thirst and weather on a raft 12 feet by 9 feet in the South Atlantic for 39 days have landed at this port.

They told Reuters: "We made a tent out of a sail. We had twenty gallons of water and emergency rations. We owe our lives to fish, which we caught with a hook made out of a tin-opener and a line formed by unravelling a rope. An American 'Catalinia' flying-boat at last spotted us and came out in a rubber dingy to pick us up in an exhausted state. The only thank offering we could make to the American Lieutenant who saved us was the four fish we had just caught. He accepted them".

HE LIVED ON FISH, SEAGULLS AND RAIN WATER.

Chinese seaman Poon Lim who lived alone on a raft for 133 days after his ship was torpedoed and was later taken to a Brazilian hospital has been awarded to-day the British Empire Medal (Civil Division).

Fish, seagulls and rainwater formed the unvarying menu for Poon Lim. Twenty-five-year-old, Poon Lim is second steward in the Merchant Navy.—Reuter.

New Suez-Canal Board To Be Dissolved By Nazis

LONDON: The new Suez-Canal Board set up by the Nazi before Rommel's advance to El-Alamien early in 1942 is to be dissolved, says a Paris dispatch to the French Press Service. The Italian directors of the Board have already resigned, adds the report. The reason for this decision is stated to be the fact that the Board serves no purpose as the dream of controlling the Suez, the gateway to the East has been shattered by the exit of the Axis from North Africa.—India Press Service.

Author Of "This Above All" Killed In Air Crash

WASHINGTON (By Mail): Major Sir Erric Knight, the Yorkshire-born author of "This Above All" and his wife were among the 35 people killed in a U. S. Transport plane which crashed recently off Dutch Guiana, says an announcement of the U. S. War Department.—India Press Service.

Repatriation Ship To Sail To Japan

OTTAWA, July 13.

A second repatriation ship will sail to Japan this summer, the Canadian Prime Minister announced on Monday night.

The ship will exchange Japanese nationals from North America for nationals of Canada, United States and one Latin American country, he added.—Reuter.

Zionists Refuse Co-operation With Palestine Govt.

JERUSALEM, July 12.

The Zionist General Council has adopted a resolution by 21 votes to one reaffirming the decision of the Jewish people as a whole and in Palestine in particular not to co-operate with the Palestine Government in post-war re-construction schemes or any other plans which might be devised if based upon the policy adopted in 1939 suspending Jewish immigration after 1944 and fettering land settlement.—Reuter.

U.S. SPENDING OVER 66 MILLION POUNDS A DAY

WASHINGTON, July 12.

The Treasury Department expects war expenditure to reach £66,250,000 pounds daily during the fiscal year which started on July 1, 1943. This compares with the average of 22,500,000 daily during the previous three years.

All-India States Hindu Sabha Conference

BANGALORE, July 12.

The Working President of the Mysore State Hindu Mahasabha announces that the first conference of All India States Hindu Mahasabha will be held in October at Shimoga (about 200 miles from Bangalore). Sri Jugal Kishore Birla of New Delhi will preside while Mr. V. D. Savarkar, President of the All India Hindu Mahasabha has consented to open the Conference.

A meeting of the Working Committee of the All Mysore State Hindu Mahasabha was held to-day in Bangalore at which a resolution was passed requesting All India States Hindu Mahasabhas to send in their representatives to the Conference.

The object of the conference was stated to be to bring about and preserve harmonious relations between the Princes and the Subjects especially now when danger threatened India and to bring about consolidation of eight crores of Hindu people inhabiting 562 Indian States.—A. P.

FRONTIER'S BRAVE POLICE OFFICERS

Award Of King's Medals

NEW DELHI, July 13.

Inspector Sardar Bahadur and Head Constable Sher Ali of North-west Frontier Police, who were killed in a battle fought with the hostiles on April 16, outside the city of Bannu, have been awarded the King's Police and Fire Services Medal for "extreme bravery".

Syed Abul Hassan, Superintendent of Additional Police, Bannu and Pir Sarwar Shah, D.S.P., Bannu, have been awarded the Indian Police Medal for "personal courage under heavy fire at close range" and for "successful tactics and sound dispositions of the police parties."

A strong and well-armed hostile gang, led by Fateh Jung, one of the most dangerous and ruthless raiders on the Bannu border came to an adjacent Serai on April 16, to raid the city and kidnap persons attending the Friday fair.

The police turned out and engaged the gang immediately and a battle followed, during which the gang lost eight killed, including Fateh Jung. Two more were wounded and captured alive, whilst another two were intercepted and killed near the border. This successful action prevented a serious raid and also rid Bannu District of a number of notorious proclaimed offenders. The operation cost the police six men killed and four wounded.—A.P.

"CRIMINAL" BECOME "RESTRICTED" TRIBES

Among the recommendations of the Criminal Tribes Act Enquiry Committee which have been accepted by the Government of Bombay is one that, instead of the term "Criminal Tribes," the term "Restricted Tribes" should be given as much currency as possible, except when strict legal requirements necessitate the use of the word "Criminal".

TO PREVENT ABUSE OF POWER.

The Committee recommended, and the Government has accepted, that before submitting recommendations to the Government for the notification of any tribe, gang or class of persons as a criminal tribe under the Criminal Tribes Act, the District Magistrate should hold a quasi-judicial inquiry. To prevent the abuse of the power of acting upon "reasonable suspicion", the District Magistrate should be required to state his reasons in writing as to the grounds of reasonable suspicion after holding a quasi-judicial inquiry and calling upon the individual to show cause why he should not be reasonably suspected of being concerned in the commission of a non-bailable offence.

Orders have been issued in regard to the Committee's recommendation about the non-application of the Criminal Tribes Act, 1924, to the "Dharala" tribe, and instructions have been issued in respect of discontinuance of the term "Dharalas" officially.

The recommendation that the distinction between interning a whole tribe in a settlement and interning individual members of a criminal tribe should be made clear has been accepted.

The Government regards it as impracticable to sub-divide the existing free colonies into probationers' colonies and free colonies, but has accepted the recommendation of the Committee that trivial disciplinary punishments should not be allowed to prejudice the release of a member from the settlement.

As recommended by the Committee, notifications issued under the Criminal Tribes Act in respect of "Bagdis", Chhaparbands", "Futgudis" "Kammis", "Katbus" and "Vanjaris", have already been cancelled. Orders have been issued denotifying the non-provincial tribes "Minas" and "Oudhias" and also in regard to the Committee's recommendation about the non-application of the Criminal Tribes Act to "Berads", "Bhils", "Kolis", "Lamanis", "Waddars" and "Waghris".

NEED OF REMAND HOME IN SUBURBS

Presiding over the annual general meeting of the Children's Aid Society, Sir Hormuzdiar Dastur, the Vice-President of the Society, stressed the need of a separate Remand Home in the suburbs to relieve the congestion at Umerkhadi Home, and also an establishment for the detention of mental defectives, both boys and girls, now staying in the Chembur Home.

Sir Hormuzdiar observed that the number of boys and girls admitted to the Remand Home was increasing, and with the flitting population of the Home, the employment of children during their stay there was one of the main difficulties the staff had to contend with. Hence the need of a separate Remand Home.

Proceeding Sir Hormuzdiar stated that they were also contemplating the establishment of a separate Girls' Home provided sufficient capital was forthcoming.

ANNEXE AT CHEMBUR.

Regarding mentally defective children the speaker said that they had built an annexe in Chembur Home for such children. A great number of them were incurables, and it was one of the most poignant sights to contemplate their helplessness. The speaker thought that it was the duty of the Government to protect such children. They were permanent incumbents on society and their stay in the Home could not be regarded without some sort of anxiety, fear and trouble. Hence a separate Home for them was necessary.

The annual report showing the satisfactory progress the Socety had made during the year was carried unanimously. Some changes were effected in the constitution of the Society.

Going off the rails

To ensure that they do not lie idle, railway tankwagons for the transport of petrol and oil in bulk are under constant supervision. Control over the tens of thousands of oil containers that also serve India's needs is a much more difficult problem. Their journey does not end at railhead, in fact, it is only there, when carrying the contents of the tankwagon to military and civil consumers, that their work begins. They penetrate into the very heart of the country.

The speedy return of packages is a matter of vital importance and can only be achieved with the constant co-operation of consumers. Please play your part. Safeguard the receptacles in which your oil comes to you.

Convicted Of Stabbing

Balkrishna Yeshwant Surve, a rent collector, was convicted of the offence of stabbing Dr. B. R. Nayen, an A.R.P. Group Warden, of Kamatipura, on the night of December 20 last, and sentenced to six months' R. I. by Mr. V. K. Muranjan, Presidency Magistrate, Mazgaon.

NO TOTAL BLACKOUT TILL OCTOBER 15

It has been decided, as an experimental measure, to suspend for the monsoon period—i.e., until October 15—the total black-out restrictions now imposed in certain areas in Bombay between midnight and 6 a.m.

The areas affected are the whole of the Island of Bombay lying south of Carnac Road and that portion of the Island west of Girgaum Road, Tardeo Road, Arthur Road to its junction with the B.B. & C.I. Railway Line, the B.B. & C.I. Railway fencing as far as Mahaluxmi Overbridge, Haines Road, Worli Road, Worli Sluice Road, Cadell Road, and Mahim Causeway and include Sandhurst Bridge, Chaupati, Malabar and Cumballa Hills and Worli Sea Face.

This suspension of the Commissioner of Police's black-out order in no way affects the lighting restrictions commonly known as the "brownout" regulations. These restrictions still remain in force. They are:

"No light shall be used in any building or part of a building or any premises appurtenant to such building or part or in any vehicle unless it is so placed or so screened by an opaque shade or by thick black or dark coloured material that no direct or reflected ray of light or glare emanating from it is visible from any angle outside the building or vehicle."

HIGHER AND HIGHER IT GOES UP

In May, 1943, the working class cost of living index number for Ahmedabad, with the average prices for the year ended July, 1927, equal to 100, was 198. This was 11 points higher than in the preceding month. The index number for food articles advanced by 18 points to 195.

MILLS EXEMPTED FROM TAPIOCA STARCH FREEZING

The Government of Bombay had issued an order in May last freezing all stocks of tapioca starch and ground-dried tapioca roots in Bombay City and the Bombay Suburban District. As it was represented that as a consequence of this order, cotton mills were not able to utilize their own stocks of tapioca starch for sizing, the Government has issued an amendment to the previous Order and exempted stocks of tapioca starch held by mills and intended to be used by them for sizing purposes.

Gulam Nabi Gulam Mohomed...Accused

A carpenter by name Harischandra Gopinath, while working on 10th March last, on a Municipal urinal under construction at Marine Drive, left his coat hanging on a nail inside. He went to fetch a pencil from his coat a few minutes later and found that the coat had disappeared. He saw the accused going across the maidan with a coat on his shoulder. Harischandra followed and overtook the accused and discovered that the coat was his own. The accused picked up a stone to throw at him. Harischandra shouted, people followed the accused and ultimately the accused was handed over to the police.

Agreeing with the verdict of the Jury, His Lordship sentenced him to four years rigorous imprisonment on the theft and classified him as a habitual criminal as he had several previous convictions.

Mr. H. J. Chinoy appeared for the Prosecution. The accused was undefended.

BROADCASTING IN INDIA

"We shall tune in to your complaints...Tell us of our defects as you see them. If there is a remedy, we shall find it." This was the assurance which Sir Sultan Ahmed, Member for Information and Broadcasting, gave in his talk broadcast from the Delhi station when he assumed his new office. We have yet to know if this assurance has not been allowed to remain a pious aspiration. Since broadcasting in India is an official concern, public opinion has failed to mould its policy or influence it in an appreciable degree. Precisely speaking, the radio-authorities have, so far, expected the people to listen to whatever is broadcast by the radio; they have rarely considered it their duty to listen to the voice of the people. We hope Sir Sultan will see that the officials of the Broadcasting Department imbibe the elementary lessons of tuning in to the complaints of the listeners. The ways and means by which the listeners can elicit some response from the authorities ought to be devised without delay. One of them, which we would recommend, is that the existing Advisory Committees should be reconstituted in a way that their membership embraces musicians, artistes and scholars of note and that such committees meet regularly and are authorised to advise and guide the station-officials and seek redress of the grievances of the listeners.

Service of the classical music of India by the All-India Radio is far from being efficient and has, therefore, been a subject of public criticism. The authorities have, according to their conceptions, set up certain standards, which are at variance with some of the traditions of classical music and which, we believe, are not likely to stimulate the propagation and progress of the latter. Classical melodies unfold their intrinsic beauty only when they are rendered in a systematic manner and are presented in their diurnal and seasonal environments. Music of high order in the programme of the All-India Radio has suffered, in no small degree, in its aesthetic appeal because its service is restricted and rationed; and it also loses its legitimate prominence when it is outweighed by the melange of light music, mixed melodies, and a lavish fare of popular tunes, 'bhajans', 'bhavgeets' and sophisticated 'garbas.'

Dissemination of classical music in its complex technique ought to be one of the main concerns of the All-India Radio; but it demands, for its success, co-operation of highly experienced and skilled musicians and not the services of inexperienced amateurs—the so-called 'hidden talents' whose crop appears to be very luxuriant in Bombay. Sir Sultan had, in his talk, said: "I hope to be able to bring to the microphone ....the finest talent in music this country can provide." And the subsequent news from New Delhi struck a refreshing note that an extensive survey of the musical talent available in the country was already in hand and that the possibilities of the Indian music programmes would be discussed in more detail in a conference of the A.I.R. Directors and music experts to be held soon after the summer session of the Assembly. Although we cannot offer any comments on the procedure adopted by the authorities as long as its details are not known, we hope classical music will in future, attain and retain a privileged position in the programmes of radio-music. We would also suggest that the individual accredited musicians should be conceded the privilege of longer time-limit for singing, the privilege of exclusive concerts on the A.I.R. and that they should be strictly asked to sing the different tunes at their appointed hours. Government ought to spend liberally on Indian music and should offer liberal remuneration to the musicians.

The Second Round

The first stage of the assault on Sicily has now ended with a smoothness that was unexpected. The Allies have established their bridgeheads on a hundred mile wide front, including the important harbour towns of Syracuse and Licatia. And they have consolidated their bridgeheads. This preliminary stage is successfully over. Now, with advance of the Allies inland and the rush of Axis troops and reserves to meet them, begins the second stage which is going to be crucial because it will be the decisive test of who is going to be the master of Sicily. The Axis enjoy certain obvious and inevitable advantages in regard particularly to inland lines of communications, long prepared defences, well-stocked supplies and a great body of land troops. They will now try to make full use of these advantages.

But the Allies, too, have factors favourable to them. They have established almost unchallenged supremacy in the Sicilian sky, so that their aircraft can effectively defend their bridgeheads and at the same time roam all over the island and even beyond, working havoc with Axis bases, concentrations, supplies, and communications. Moreover, the Allied Navy commands the Sicilian channel—a far cry from the days when it was called "bomb alley" —and, therefore, reinforcements and supplies can be rushed to Sicily from African bases at any time and in any quantity they are required. The impending battles—they have probably already begun—ought, therefore, to go in favour of the Allies. The success in the crucial stage which will be bitter will not, however, mean the end of the battle for Sicily. It will mean extension of control over the whole of the vital south-eastern part of Sicily. But it will be decisive because, thereafter, the Axis will at least be fighting a delaying defensive battle much after the pattern of Tunisia, with this difference that they will not collapse so suddenly and completely as in Tunisia. But the third stage is still a long way off. Indeed, the second round itself has yet to be won. By the way, it is interesting to note that General Montgomery is in command of the British forces which include the famous Eighth Army, too. The question occurs to us: Is the Fourth Indian Division included in the Eighth Army in the latter's invasion of European soil? Will Sir Sultan Ahmed's Information Department vouchsafe the information?

FRANKLY SPEAKING

Pacific Quiet

Of late very little by way of further advance in any sector has been reported by General MacArthur. Land fighting both in New Guinea and New Georgia has been in a state of suspense, inactivity being relieved only by the continuation of the air offensive. Still the period has not been without a welcome success or so. After their disastrous naval failure of over a week ago, the Japs have made two further ineffectual attempts to reinforce their garrisons, particularly the several thousands defending Munda.

Munda Doomed

In the first, they seem to have escaped without loss, in the second they suffered another shrewd blow in the Kula Gulf. Japanese losses in the last three actions, totalling over a dozen destroyers and cruisers, are by themselves quite important considering how Jap naval strength is dwindling as against the increasing strength of the Americans. These failures have also resulted in Munda now being completely blockaded and its garrison being faced, as a report says, "with the alternative of death or surrender." There is no doubt that the Japs will not surrender and will choose the alternative of fighting literally to the death. The fight for Munda is, therefore, going to be extremely severe and, while the garrison is certainly doomed, it will be wrong to look forward to its imminent fall. Once, however, Munda is taken the success will open up quite interesting possibilities.

Textile Control Board

The Bombay Municipal Corporation had an easy task in adopting the resolution protesting against the over-representation of vested interests in the Textile Control Board and urging Government to reconstitute it so as to give adequate representation to the consumers. The Board is too heavily weighted with millowners and officials, even when allowance is made for the fact that the Board must include many who know the technique of production to work on its various sub-committees. When Mr. Ramnath Poddar, who represented the millowners in the Corporation, opposed the resolution on the plea that the two representatives of the consumers were enough for them in a body of twenty-five members, he only demonstrated how difficult it is for the vested interests to appreciate the view-point of the consumers.

However, it is necessary for the public to realise that a mere reconstitution of the Board will not go far enough to solve the cloth problem. The Board is only an advisory body and all important decisions rest with Government. Their decision not to fix maximum prices at present is doubtless a concession to the millowners. But that is a very intriguing position, indeed, considering that so many lesser necessaries of life have been controlled. Any possible deal between Government and millowners at the expense of the public must be averted by all possible means. It is also intriguing that exports of cloth are not yet stopped. Suspicions are not very rampant now as there has been an appreciable fall in cloth prices during the last few weeks. But it remains to be seen what the position will be in the next few months.

Insufficient Increase

The Corporation have done but partial justice by increasing from Rs. 10 to Rs. 14 the dearness allowance paid to employees drawing salaries of Rs. 200 and less. Considering that the increase falls far below that in the cost of living, it might well have been a little more generous, at least in the case of those who draw a salary of Rs. 100 and less. The Standing Committee should sympathetically consider the recommendation of the general body to see if the allowance now sanctioned can be further increased.

Rising Mortality

In the course of the debate on this subject it was stated that the mortality in the city was rising owing to scarcity of food and its bad quality. The Commissioner, however, expressed his opinion that the rising mortality was not at all due to the deterioration in the health of the city. In his opinion the rate of mortality was much less than during the previous years if they took into consideration the increase in the population of late. The present mortality may be proportionately lower than that of several years ago. But we fear it compares badly with that of the last year. If it is only an apparent increase due to increase of population during the last year, the Commissioner should publish the figures he relies on regarding the increase in population.

PEASANT'S HOPE OF FUTURE

Two Million Men Trained For Collective Fighting Can Through Co-operation Reconstruct Indian Villages

"Co-operation is after all a movement of the people, for the people, by the people and while careful supervision and guidance from the officials with all their wealth of experience and knowledge will always be welcome, it is being again recognised that the future of the movement lies in the strengthening of the non-official workers and in the harnessing of their energy, enthusiasm and spirit of service for the maintenance of the popular character of the movement without impairing its efficiency."

This was the observation made by Sir J. A. Madan, in the course of his presidential address at the Silver Jubilee celebration of the Bombay Provincial Co-operative Institute at the Sir Vithaldas Thackersey Memorial building on Tuesday evening.

The portraits of Sir Lalubhai Samaldas and Mr. G. K. Devdhar, were unveiled on the occasion.

The Institute has brought out a Silver Jubilee Souvenir which gives a complete history of the Institute and its work.

On the occasion of its Jubilee messages have been received from Sir John Colville, Governor of Bombay, H. H. the Gaekwad of Baroda, the Hon. V. Ramdas Pantulu, Prof. V. G. Kale, Rao Bahadur Talmakki, founder of the Institute and several others. Some of these have been published in the Souvenir. Others were read at the Jubilee meeting by Mr. V. L. Mehta, the Secretary of the Institute.

The meeting began with the hoisting of the Co-operators' flag.

PEASANT'S HOPE

The Chairman in the course of his address said that "it is with legitimate pride and jubilation that co-operators all over the Province celebrate the Silver Jubilee of an Institution which in the past has done a great deal and which has such possibilities of greater achievement in the future for the furtherance of the Co-operative Movement, to which we all look up, for the economic regeneration, especially of the agricultural population, and for rural reorganisation in the country."

Sir Janardan gave a detailed account of the chequered career of the Institute, its early beginnings, the hopes of its founders, the expansion of its activities, its record of useful work and the subsequent setback and discussed the causes which led to its present position.

Continuing he said: "The crisis, however, appears to have passed; the new constitution has been accepted by the Institute, which has begun to restart its activities confident of its place in the body co-operative, confident of the future because of its determination to success." It was true that to-day the Institute was largely an educational body; but it was also recognised as the forum where non-official opinion could be focussed. It had already embarked on its career of usefulness; it was already bringing together the non-officials once more, chastened and grim, firm in their faith in the movement and firm in their purpose, back to the service, through co-operation, of the small man in cities, towns and villages."

"The achievements of the Institute in the past constitute a fair record; the crisis of the past few years was grave; yet if the past is any index, one need not entertain any doubts as to the future. The scope for service is great; with the expansion and diversification of the movement from the trodden paths of credit to the more fruitful paths of non-credit development like marketing, from the short-term credit of the primaries to long-term credit of the land mortgage banks, from the attempted cure of agricultural indebtedness by cheap and regulated co-operative credit to the surer prevention thereof by insurance, of life, crop and cattle, the scope for service widens considerably further."

Sir Janardan then unveiled the portraits of Sir Lalubhai Samaldas, "a pioneer of the co-operative movement" and Mr. G. K. Devadhar, "an optimist who always believed in the amelioration of the people."

MORE FELLOWS

These two were so far the only two Fellows of the Institute. The chairman then announced that in view of their great services it had been decided to make the following six gentlemen, Fellows of the Institute: Rao Bahadur Talmakki, Sir Chunilal V. Mehta, Mr. B. V. Jadhav, Dewan Bahadur H. L. Kaji, Prof. V. G. Kale and Dewan Bahadur C. M. Gandhi.

BASIS OF DEVELOPMENT

Mr. B. V. Jadhav after recalling the distinguishing features of the Co-operative movement in the Bombay Presidency stated that the period of doubt had gone and that it was now generally felt that any programme of development was bound to be based on co-operation.

Sir Manilal Nanavati stressed the need to create a band of live workers in the villages and a brain trust to guide the movement, avoiding the delays of endless conferences and bureaucratic methods.

Dewan Bahadur H. L. Kaji envisaged a time when the outburst of savagery caused by unbridled desires, which the world was witnessing today, would yield place to a co-operative ordering of things.

Mr. R. G. Saraiya suggested the various directions which co-operation might take in the post-war world. He stressed that the two million men now in arms and trained in collective fighting for civilisation would prove ideal human material to be utilised for the reconstruction of the villages.

Mrs. Hansa Mehta referred to the phenomenal development of co-operation in China during recent years and suggested that, if it could be given a mass appeal, there was no reason why it should not succeed in India.

Mr. S. K. Ikram, Registrar of Co-operative Societies, said that the period of consolidation and rectification was over and the time for development had come.

Mr. Noormahomed Chinoy proposed and Rao Bahadur Bole seconded a vote of thanks.

Opportunity For Technical Training

Speaking to a Press Conference in Bombay, Mr. I. A. Ezekiel, Assistant Director of Publicity and Recruitment, Government of India, on the Technical Training Scheme, said:

The Government of India's Technical Training scheme provides scope to-day for the training of technicians on a scale far beyond the demands of the most ambitious devotees of technical education in this country.

The scheme was launched just three years ago, to be exact in February 1940. A very modest scheme in the beginning, it has grown now to gigantic proportions. To-day, there exist nearly 400 training centres spread all over the country, with seats for over 45,000 boys, nearly all of whom are fully trained, under an intensified course, in six months or even less.

The scheme covers training in almost every conceivable trade, mechanics, turners, fitters, welders, instrument-makers, draughtsmen, surveyors, boiler-makers, revetters, moulders, textile fitters, tin and copper smiths, blacksmiths, carpenters, wiremen, roller drivers, vulcanisers, painters, plumbers, upholsterers—these are but a few of the large variety of tradesmen that are turned out fully trained with a rapidity that was inconceivable before the outbreak of the war.

The Government of India Training Centres provide more seats for training of technicians than are generally occupied. Further, the training is entirely free.

What is more, every boy gets stipends—in the nature of scholarships —ranging from Rs. 26 to Rs. 45 per month, while still under training. In addition he gets workshop clothing and several other types of equipment, entirely free.

OBJECT OF IT.

What is the object of training so many thousands of boys every year? said Mr. Ezekiel. Modern fighting forces, as you are aware, are highly mechanised. The Army for example, is equipped with rifles, Tommy-guns, Lewis guns, long-range field guns, telephones, army trucks small and large sized tanks, wireless apparatus, etc.,—all of which undergo very rapid wear, and tear on the battlefield. Further, dust, sand, mud, moisture, heat and rain,—all combine to put them frequently out of order. These have to be constantly and quickly repaired.

Attached to every army is a large unit of technical force whose job it is to see that army equipment is kept in proper working condition. There are mobile workshops that move with the army and do repair work on spot. There are base workshops miles behind the fighting line, which carry out repair works of a more serious nature. Then we have workshops far away from the battlefields, in India itself where work is conducted.

The same story can be repeated in the case of the Navy and the Air Force. In fact in the case of the Air Force far more men are required on the ground staff to keep the fighter, bomber and other types of planes in top-notch condition than the number of men actually required to go up in the air. Then there are the ordnance factories in India, many working non-stop, which are kept going by thousands of trained technicians. It is the Government of India Technical Training Scheme which maintains the steady flow of supply for all these thousands of technicians for the army, the navy, the air force and the ordnance factories and also, in some cases, for the railways and civil industries.

Conspiracy Charge Dropped By Prosecution

Bombay Bomb Case Developments: Dramatic Arrest Of Accused

BOMBAY, Tuesday.

For want of sufficient evidence leading to a charge of conspiracy against them, all the nine persons alleged to have been involved in various bomb outrages that disturbed the city of Bombay for nearly three months beginning with November last, and now standing their preliminary trial, were ordered to be charge-sheeted in four separate groups by Mr. G. A. Sabnis, Presidency Magistrate, Girgaum Court, to-day.

Mr. C. B. Velkar, the police prosecutor stated that he did not propose to proceed against all the accused under the same charge-sheet, and that he wanted all the accused to be separately charged.

He wanted to divide the case into four separate cases. The first case would be against Savani and Dr. Vasant Avasare, the first and the eighth accused of the case. The second case, said the prosecutor, would be against accused Nos. 4, 5 and 6, the third against accused Nos. 4 and 9, and the fourth against accused Nos. 2 and 7.

The Magistrate allowed the accused to be put on separate charge-sheets.

The Magistrate however made it clear that the evidence of the four witnesses so far recorded was to remain.

In the afternoon further evidence was adduced in the first case that was taken up against two of the accused, namely, Shantilal Karsandas Savani, and Dr. Vasant Avasare. The latter is still absconding. The accused were charged with possessing and having under their control explosive substances. They were further charged with counselling, aiding, abetting, and being accessories to the supply of money, providing premises and supplying materials for manufacturing explosives.

DRAMATIC ARREST OF THE ACCUSED.

After the evidence of the Mali and the rent-collector of Gautam Niwas was recorded, the story of the dramatic arrest of the first accused Savani was narrated by two police constables. They told the court that the lock of the accused's block in Gautam Niwas was opened secretly and they were posted inside to keep watch, the door being locked again from outside. On February 4, accused Savani came and while entering the block after unlocking the door from outside was smartly arrested by the two constables so anxiously waiting for him.

Sub-Inspector Miranda told the Court that in consequence of a statement by one Nagesh, witness Barve was arrested and his premises were searched by him and from him he obtained the clue to the accused's dwelling.

Nearly forty incriminating articles found in the room of the accused were produced in the Court.

Mr. C. B. Velker conducted the prosecution for the crown, while Barrister Vasudev Upadhya aided by Messrs. Madhusudan Vyas and R. G. Shah defended Mr. Savani.

The case is proceeding.

MIRAJ: Mr. Savalinga Dada Shete and Mr. Mahadev Shivappa Butale of Kavathepiram in Miraj Sr. and six other young men from Kolhapur and Tasgon have been arrested at Sangli under D. I. R. for possessing arms and some chemicals. Mr. Gayakwad, a worker of the Kolhapur Praja Parishad, has been released unconditionally.

Cry Of "Revive Politics"

I have read with interest the report of efforts by some persons to resuscitate politics in India.

Let us, however, give politics a rest for the time being, and turn our attention to a cloud of great import that is gathering over India. It is the post-war scheme of capitalist exploitation that is slowly taking shape in the West. Already leading business concerns including Chambers of Commerce and Banks in America, under the blessing of the State, are beginning to think "realistically and constructively" about the post-war world and engaging their best brains to formulate plans for capturing Eastern Markets after the war, in the name of Economic Development. Frantic efforts are being made to see that the Western stranglehold over the markets, among other countries, in India, is not loosened.

Any process that tends to strengthen trends towards democracy, is to be welcomed. It is not necessarily a political process. It is also economic and cultural. Instances of the latter process are growth of the labour movement to an all time high membership, increase of labour unity, strengthened status of labour in industry, growth of consumers' co-operation, lessening of race discrimination in job opportunities, the giving of greater attention than hitherto by labour, educational, business and civil bodies, to post-war reconstruction etc.

If India is to stand on her legs, then India has to learn to solve her own problem of production, distribution and consumption, so as to serve her own interests. This requires economic education of the masses, at the hands of Indians themselves. To this task, Indians, so far, have scarcely turned their serious attention.

To those, therefore, whose hands are itching for "something to do to end this stalemate", I say—"Take to this long neglected field, shown above".

MODERN SICILY AT A GLANCE

WASHINGTON, July 12.

U. S. Government research reveals the following facts about Sicily that have an important bearing on the military campaign now in progress.

WATER—Town water supplies are not abundant. The large cities depend on aqueducts. The principal cities have storage reservoirs and their own distribution systems, but not much in the way of purification systems.

AGRICULTURE—Sicily imports all the staples. There is usually a meat shortage and a fish surplus. Most of the agriculture is carried on in the form of share-cropping with primitive methods. There is a chronic shortage of fertiliser.

MINING—The chief products are sulphur and asphalt, and salt is evaporated. There is a shortage of wood, and it is sometimes necessary to import fuels.

HEALTH AND SANITATION—There are unhealthy conditions as the result of overcrowding and inadequate health measures. Food and water are subject to contamination. Refrigeration is inadequate. The most common diseases are malaria typhoid fever, undulant fever, amoebic dysentery and venereal diseases. There is a shortage of hospital facilities and supplies.

RAILWAYS—The main lines are standard Italian gauge, permitting the use of equipment from the mainland, but some of the lines are narrow gauge. All the lines are single track.

ROADS—The island is completely encircled with a fairly extensive network of good roads which connect with all important interior points. The main roads are paved.

ELECTRIC POWER—Compared with the rest of Italy, electric power is relatively undeveloped. There are some hydro-electric plants. Important steam plants are located at Catania, Porto Empedocle and Palermo.

MAIN CITIES—Palermo has rather narrow streets and numerous public buildings, hotels and shops. It is not highly industrialised. Shipping is its most important activity. The port is capable of accommodating vessels drawing up to 29 feet and has several berths capable of accommodating several Liberty ships.

Messina was originally destroyed by an earthquake and the eruption of Mount Aetna in 1908. The streets were relaid, so they were generally wider and straighter than those of other Italian cities. Hence the town looks fairly modern. The city occupies a narrow strip of land between the straits to the east and steep hills to the west. The straits are about three miles long and 1,500 to 4,500 feet wide. The harbour is well protected.—U.S.O.W.I.

COMPENSATION FOR FIRING

The Government of Bombay has sanctioned an ex gratia payment of Rs. 2,000 as compensation to Miss Champu Raghunath Paturdhan who was accidentally injured as a result of firing by the police on a riotous mob in Nasik on August 11, 1942. The Government has also borne the expenses of a plastic operation which was performed on the girl as a result of the injury.

Bombay Students' Union

Messrs. Manoo Damani and Atul Mehta, Secretaries of the Provisional Committee of the Bombay Students' Union (Harvey Road) have issued the following:—

"In accordance with the resolutions passed by the general body of the above Union held on Monday, the 12th inst. at Marwari Vidyalaya, we, the secretaries of the Provisional Committee along with other members went to the office of the Union on Tuesday evening to take charge of the office and to hold our meeting of the Committee. But the members of the old executive, along with certain Communists blocked our way in the staircase, only. They would not allow us to go to the office. Ordinarily no member can be refused admission by another member. But the Communists, having lost the confidence of the members, desperate as they are, resorted to these unfair tactics. Consequently commotion rose and students collected on the streets. The police officers, who were on the spot, were called in by the landlord. And after some discussion the police asked both the groups to retire and Mrs. Batliwalla was asked to close the office-room. These incidents are proof-positive of the high-handed attitude the Communists are taking. We call upon the public and students in particular to judge for themselves whether there is any decency and sense of tolerance existing in the Communist minds."

II

Mr. Arvind Mehta, General Secretary of the Bombay Students' Union, has issued the following statement:

"Following the so-called "general body" meeting held on 12th July, the Executive Committee of the Bombay Students' Union met in the afternoon of the 13th and expelled the 13 members who had been "elected" on the provisional executive and several other organisers of the above meeting.

On the evening of 13th, these students followed by a crowd, tried to force entry into the office of the B.S.U. with the openly declared intention of holding a meeting and creating trouble. The members of the Executive with the help of about 50 B.S.U. workers firmly and peacefully kept them out of the office. Due to the strength of the B.S.U. workers and the patient handling of the situation by the executive, no "incident" could be provoked. However, uttering wild threats, they created a row which brought the Police on the scene. The Police asked the executive to close the office for the day and dispersed the crowd inside and outside the office.

Following the theft of some B.S.U. files on the 10th, and the meeting on the 12th in defiance of the Executive, these students are now coming down to attack on the office. The Executive with the help of the B.S.U. workers will deal firmly with these attempts. However, finally, it is in the hands of the students to stop this. They will do this by isolating the disruptors in their own colleges, by supporting the B.S.U. campaigns and making the forthcoming B.S.U. Conference a thumping success."

Still They Come

Telegram from New Delhi informs every one that the Government is thinking of enacting law banning banks to advance against commodities including bullion, to avoid inflation. How may I know what could be a better security than bullion for one who advances money? In my opinion the result of this would be that the capitalists would get, say, about 80 per cent from the banks by pledging promissory notes and advance against bullion with the margin of 60 per cent at higher rate of interest, and thus instead of stopping inflation, it would rather increase. Government has very recently enacted so many laws, the result of which we have seen that this war era has made every thing dear except human beings. How long would this last? It is therefore, one has to halt and cry on the times, oh the manners?

Validity Of States-Merger Scheme Challenged

Important constitutional questions pertaining to the relations between the Crown and the Crown Representative in India and the Indian States, are raised in an application filed on 6th July in the Court of the Judicial Commissioner, Western India States Agency, Rajkot, by Dosal Harsur of Charkha, who had been convicted along with two others by the Chief Court of Criminal Justice in Kathiawar and sentenced to transportation for life. The applicant prays that his appeal against the sentence may not be transferred to the Baroda Court, and that it may be heard by the Court of the Judicial Commissioner.

CROWN REPRESENTATIVE'S POWERS QUESTIONED.

The reasons given by the applicant for non-transfer of his appeal to the Baroda Court are briefly these. H. E. the Crown Representative issued a communique on 16-4-1943 announcing that he had decided to attach the states and talukas enumerated in the list annexed to the communique to bigger States, called the attaching States and the taluka of Charkha to which the applicant belongs has been attached to the Baroda State. The applicant states that the attachment decided upon by the Crown Representative is illegal, 'ultra-vires' and unconstitutional, since (1) the communique does not state the powers under which the scheme of attachment has been made; (2) the non-jurisdiction talukas of Kathiawar as distinguished from the jurisdictional States are a part of British India and they cannot be transferred or ceded to any other State, foreign or Indian, without any Act of the British Parliament; (3) the Crown Representative is not empowered under the Government of India Act, 1935, to transfer the States and talukas by way of attachment or otherwise to other Indian States so as to remove them from the jurisdiction, political and constitutional, of the Crown without their consent; (4) the Foreign Jurisdiction Order-in-Council 1902 also does not empower the Crown Representative to transfer States and estates to other States; (5) under the English Constitution the Crown is not empowered to cede or transfer territories under its extra-territorial jurisdiction and Government without an Act of Parliament in times of peace; (6) the chiefs of Kathiawar, however small, are all independents and their powers of Government within their own territories are their own and not derived from the Crown and cannot be taken away or transferred to other states without their consent; (7) and there is no other constitutional source from which the Crown Representative derives the powers to transfer by way of attachment the states and talukas to other states.

The applicant, therefore, prays that his appeal may not be transferred to the Baroda Court and that it may be heard by the Judicial Commissioner's Court itself. He has requested that at least two months' time may be given to him to engage counsel and instruct him for the hearing.

How many Wagon hours did you SAVE last month?

WAGON Time is doubly precious today because the whole country—The Fighting Forces, the War Factories and the People—are waiting on Railway Wagons to deliver the Goods.

As a user of Rail Transport there are many ways by which you can assist the Railways to meet these urgent demands.

Make it a part of your monthly agenda to have all Demurrage Bills strictly scrutinized. Impress on your clearing and forwarding staff or Agents that demurrage must be kept as low as possible. For the less demurrage you pay, the less detention there is to wagons and the quicker they are released to transport the vital needs of War.

HOW TO REGAIN YOUTH?

The wonder is that youth is restored in 7 days, but strict self-control is to be exercised during this period, otherwise the secret of cure is rendered ineffective. So only those should use the medicine who can promise this self-control. A great miracle makes its appearance on the very first day. All that is required is to store it and then for years you will not experience any loss of vigour again. There are two medicines, one for internal consumption and the other for external application. The complete course is known as REJUVINE. The very first dose of internal medicine begins to work wonders as if complete transformation has begun. The medicine for application also shows its miraculous effects from the very first day.

Price complete course Rs. 5/-. Postage -/11/- extra.

This course will be sent to those who promise to exercise complete self-control.

CITY MARKETS

BOMBAY, Tuesday.

SHARES: The local Share Bazar re-opened to-day but the volume of business was restricted with a feeling of hesitancy. It appears that there is more disposition to await developments as in these days when the Government is taking all measures to check inflation, there may be something in store for Share Bazar—Abundant Supply of money and encouraging war news are inducing support but prospects of decreasing profits of various industries are retarding any buying urge. Thus more or less we have a stabilised price structure. Outside participation is very small and we have narrow price movement as a result of jobbing operations. Tata Steel Dfd. Shares opened to-day at Rs. 1,990 and improved to Rs. 2.000 while Ordinary Shares were placed at Rs. 403. Bombay Dyeings opened at Rs. 2,010 and advanced to Rs. 2,020 and steadied at Rs. 2.017. Century Shares opened at Rs. 819 and advanced to Rs. 824 and later quietened at Rs. 820. Kohinoor Mill Shares opened at Rs. 824 and after advancing to Rs. 829 sagged to Rs. 824. Later on there was some tired liquidation which downturned Steel Dfds. to Rs. 1.980 and Ordinary Shares were placed at Rs. 401. Bombay Dyeings were quoted at Rs. 2.012.

The market was quiet with increased liquidation but towards the close there appeared some covering which rallied quotations few points from low levels reached. The market closed barely steady.

Special Police For Central Govt. Departmental Offences

NEW DELHI, July 12.

An Ordinance issued today provides for the constitution of a special police force to investigate certain offences committed in connection with Departments of the Central Government, with power to investigate such offences wherever committed in British India.

The Central Government is empowered to specify the offences or classes of offences committed in connection with the Central Government's Departments which are to be investigated by the Special Police Establishment (War Department) or may direct any particular offence committed in connection with the Central Government's Departments to be so investigated.

Raw Cotton Situation

Messrs Bruel & Co. have issued the following report:—

There is nothing new to report about conditions in the ready market; Mills have again been fairly free Buyers of high grade Indian Cotton of the stapled varieties, and also of foreign Cotton but Cotton of average quality remains neglected.

We find now that when writing last week of the apparent lack of interest shown by the Board of the E. I. C. A. Ltd., in the future well-being of the Members and of their employees, we were somewhat off the mark for on the 6th inst., a letter dated the 28th ulto. addressed by the Association to the Department of Industries and Civil Supplies, was released for the information of Members. This is a lengthy communication setting out the grievances of those concerned with the legitimate task of marketing and handling raw Cotton, and we hope that it will receive serious consideration in Government Circles.

We undeistand that a letter has also been written to the Government of Bombay, calling, amongst other things, for a clarification of future intentions but this has not yet been made available to Members and it seems to us a great pity that the latter should be kept so much in the dark about the actions being taken by the Board in the interests of all concerned.

TENDERS FOR TREASURY BILLS

Tenders for Rs. Eight Crores of three months' Government of India Treasury Bills were opened on Tuesday the 13th July 1943. Total amount offered was Rs. 13,22,25,000. Tenders at Rs. 99-12-3 were accepted in full and those at Rs. 99-12-0 allotted approximately 68 pc., Lower tenders were rejected. Total amount accepted was Rs. Eight Crores, the average rate of accepted tenders being Re. 0-15-11 per cent per annum.

Tenders for Rs. Eight Crores of three months' Government of India Treasury Bills will be received on Tuesday the 20th July 1943, in Bombay up to 11 A.M. (Standard Time) and up to the close of business on Monday the 19th July 1943 at other centres. Successful tenderers should make payment on Friday the 23rd July 1943. Other conditions are as usual.

During the week ended 9th July 1943, Government of India Treasury Bills for Rs. 35,59,00,000—were sold in favour of the Issue Department of the Reserve Bank of India.

The Half-Column

By "Dim"

I feel that someone from among the Editors in Conference should ask Sir Sultan the following questions:

(1) Does Sir Sultan approve of the continuation in office as India's National War Front Leader a man who as Collector of Midnapore has offended Indian sentiment and during whose term of collectorship ruthless means were employed to crush Indian nationalism?

(2) Would Sir Sultan tell us who is the lady who deputizes for Mr. P. J. Griffiths and what her qualifications are for the job she holds? What pay does she receive?

(3) Does Sir Sultan think it fair that certain publications claiming to emanate from independent Indian sources should really be publications of the Department of External Affairs of the Government of India?

(4) What help is Sir Sultan willing to give Indian journalists to help them to reach the main theatres of war?

* * *

It has been suggested to the Bombay Film Society that they should follow the Hollywood idea of offering an Award for the best picture that is shown in India. I think the suggestion should be seriously considered. They may also offer a booby prize for the worst FAB short to be released! Of course one can never judge those which were shelved after production e.g. "Women of India". Yes, who produced that? Who featured in it?

Further Call To Arms Of Belgian Subjects In India

The Belgian Government in London has now called to the Colours from the 1st August 1943, Belgian nationals born in 1900, 1901 and 1924, belonging respectively to the classes 1920, 1921 and 1944.

Therefore, in accordance with instructions of his Government, Monsieur Marcel Goosse, Belgian Consul General at Bombay, has to notify his countrymen residing in his jurisdiction in India, and in Portuguese India, born during the aforesaid period to communicate with him immediately, at 11, Carmichael Road, Bombay.

From this new order and those issued hitherto, it must be noted that every Belgian subject born between the 1st January 1900 and 31st December 1924, comes under the Belgian Military Service obligations.

HOW WOMEN CAN WIN MEN AND MEN WIN

Respect of Other Men

Unless two pints of bile juice flow daily from your liver into your bowels, your food decays in your bowels. This poisons your whole body. You get yellow tongue, yellow skin, pimples, dull eyes, bad breath, bad taste, gas, dizziness, headache. You have become an ugly-looking, foul-smelling, sour-thinking person. Everybody wants to run from you.

Laxatives can't help, for they only move out the tail end of your bowels and that doesn't take away the decayed poison.

Only a free flow of your bile juice will stop this decay poison in your bowels. The one mild vegetable medicine which starts a free flow of your bile juice is Carter's Little Liver Pills. No calomel in Carter's. Only fine, mild, vegetable extracts. If you would bring back your personal charm, start taking Carter's Little Liver Pills according to directions today.

Making West End Watches for You

The BALANCE WHEEL.
Correct time-keeping depends upon the mechanical perfection of the many parts of a watch movement, among which the balance wheel plays an important role. Just glance at the enlarged illustration shown here and it will be seen at once that this is a highly scientific component which calls for expert craftsmanship in making, fitting and adjusting

The MINIATURE "M"
18-ct. Solid Gold .. Rs. 166

The MINIATURE "A-2"
18-ct. Solid Gold Rs. 127

The balance wheel receives the power transmitted from the mainspring and transforms it into elements of time. In "West End" watches, the balance wheel, like every other part, performs its vital function with meticulous precision. It pays to buy a good watch. Buy "West End".
